

ABOUT US

Good Life Careers was co-founded by Robert P. Tepley, Ph.D. and Michael K. Tepley, Jr., Lt Col USAF (Ret). Our mission is to give homeschooling children the resources they need to develop life-long career exploration and career decision-making skills.

Dr. Rob Tepley is a psychologist and Managing Partner of Neuropsychology Consultants, LLC. He authored the authoritative career development book for parents, Career Guidance for Homeschoolers: Inspiring Children by Linking Their Interests with Their Possible Futures. Rob received his doctorate in psychology from the University of Texas-Austin.

Colonel Mike Tepley served over 22 years in the Air Force as a combat F-16 fighter pilot and was awarded the Bronze Star during combat operations. Mike earned his M.S. degree in Industrial Engineering & Management. He graduated from the US Air Force Academy with a degree in Aeronautical Engineering.

Career exploration during childhood enhances academic motivation and makes learning meaningful to children.

Research shows that children experiencing career exploration in the natural course of their educations are more likely to be academically engaged and successful.

Motivate your child to value learning, make learning personally relevant and important, and show how their interests relate to their future

Homeschooler Student Assessment

Most public schools ignore career exploration and learning. Yet children form ideas about the world of work at very young ages.

Career learning prevents the natural tendency for children to restrict future aspirations. This happens because of limited information and assumptions about themselves and careers.

Our Student Assessment helps children think about their interests, personalities, and abilities in career relevant terms. This broadens their horizons without pressure to make a career decision.

Children can learn how their unique interests, abilities, personalities, and values relate to various careers.

Your personalized Student Report includes an explanation of your career interests and personality, learning style, leadership strengths, top aptitudes and core values.

The report also includes your prioritized list of possible career matches.

Sample reports are available on our website.

The Good Life Careers Student Assessment is closely linked to a complete career exploration curriculum and a massive occupational database.
